DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to the rejection of the claims have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of all the claims has been withdrawn.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection/objection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection/objection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection/objection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 43 and 23-42 are provisionally rejected to on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 2-21 of copending Application No. 11/011,756. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the current application has claims, which are anticipated by 11/011,756.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman*, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); and In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985). In determining whether a nonstatutory basis exists for a double patenting rejection, the first question to be asked is — does any claim in the application define an invention that is anticipated by, or is merely an obvious variation of , an invention claimed in the patent? If the answer is yes, then an “obviousness-type” nonstatutory double patenting rejection may be appropriate. Obviousness-type double patenting requires rejection of an application claim when the claimed subject matter is not patentably distinct from the subject matter claimed in a commonly owned patent, or a non-commonly owned patent but subject to a joint research agreement as set forth in 35 U.S.C. 103(c)(2) and (3), when the issuance of a second patent would provide unjustified extension of the term of the right to exclude granted by a patent. See Eli Lilly & Co. v. Barr Labs., Inc., 251 F.3d 955, 58 USPQ2d 1869 (Fed. Cir. 2001); Ex parte Davis, 56 USPQ2d 1434, 1435-36 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 2000).

*Although the claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 23-43 are generic to all that is recited in claims 1-21 of US Patent Application 11/011,756 ('756). In other words, Claims 1-21 of '756 FULLY ENCOMPASS the subject matter of the present claims (23-43). Therefor claims 1-21 ('756) anticipate claims 23-43 (present claims) regardless of any additional subject matter preset in claims 1-21 ('756). (please see In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993)).*

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 23-43 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the double patenting rejection(s).
5. It would not be obvious to use the claimed braking system in an aircraft because there is no motivation to use current regenerative (dynamic) braking technology in an aircraft environment (because it would appear unsafe to do so, and significant modifications would be necessary for the motivation to result in a working system). Most the prior art discloses the use of an electromagnetic ram that is used to control the physical interactions between the rotor and the stators.
